

OLD TOWN MUSEUM

“Oral History in the Digital Age”

SUNDAY, AUGUST 6, 2023

2:00 PM

Digital technology provides a greater opportunity than ever to collect and access oral history recordings. On August 6, Kimberly Sawtelle of Fogler Library, University of Maine, will speak about her work to make the Northeast Archives of Folklore and Oral History available online for free access, worldwide. Learn about the gems of local history recorded in the Oral History archives and how to listen to these recordings online.

This event is free and open to the public.
